1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. Introduction of Event

These Competition Regulations outline the obligations and guidelines for Team Delegations, FIVB, and Volleyball World (VW) Delegations regarding participation in and the technical staging of the Event, including any associated side events.

The following rules of interpretation apply to these Competition Regulations:

- a. The FIVB reserves the right to update these Competition Regulations at any time before the Event. Any changes will be promptly communicated to stakeholders, along with the updated version.
- b. In case of any conflict or ambiguity between the provisions of these Competition Regulations and the FIVB Event Regulations, the FIVB Event Regulations shall take precedence.
- c. Unless otherwise specified, a reference to the "Event" refers to the Volleyball Nations League Men and Women 2025, including all related side events.
- d. References to "FIVB Event Regulations, Chapter(s)" refer to specific Chapters of the FIVB Event Regulations.
- e. References to "Appendix(ices)" or "Annex" refer to those within these Competition Regulations.
- f. A reference to one gender shall include references to all genders, unless the context indicates otherwise.

1.2. Event Concept

As of the 2025 edition, the Volleyball Nations League (VNL) introduces a new competition formula with 18 teams per gender. This annual league for men's and women's national volleyball teams brings together the world's best teams to compete for the title of VNL Champion.

The updated format optimizes the match schedule, travel logistics, and competitive balance, ensuring high-performance standards and global event promotion. The Preliminary Phase includes a two-week break after the first two weeks to prevent teams from extended periods on the road.

With a total of 116 matches per gender across the Preliminary and Final Phases, each team plays a minimum of 12 matches against evenly matched opponents.

The competition formula is structured as follows:

1. HOSTS – Definition of host teams and venues for each week.
2. TEAM RANKING – Teams are ranked based on the FIVB Volleyball World Ranking following the previous VNL edition.
3. SPORTING STRENGTH – Teams are divided into three categories of six teams each, based on their World Ranking.
4. TECHNICAL BALANCE & FAIRNESS – Each team plays 12 matches, facing exactly four teams from each category, ensuring a balanced and fair level of competition for all teams.
